SAY, MERCHANT!

"Do You Carry Life Insurance and Fire Insurance?"

Then why should you or any other merchant who insures his life, his buildings and his stock of goods, neglect to insure the safety of the money which he spends his life and sells his goods to get?

YOU WORK HARD, EARLY AND LATE for the money that comes over your counter in exchange for the goods you sell. And yet you place that hard-earned money in a drawer unprotected in any way against carelessness and possible dishonesty.

A NATIONAL CASH REGISTER will prevent this for you. It costs you nothing to call and investigate.

The somnambulist has not our dull memory of things. He sees the objects he speaks of and really hears, feels, and touches them, exactly as if they were real.

When a patient speaks he has a fluency of language and even an eloquence that are superior to his normal powers. When he acts he has a precision and quickness that are wonderful.

In connection with this precision and certainty of memory we find some strange mental blanks. You speak to patients and they do not answer. You try to make your presence felt, they do not perceive. To make yourself heard you must dream with the patient and speak to him only in accordance with his delirium.

When a patient gets back to consciousness he forgets everything that has happened during his delirium. If you try to awaken his memory with questions two things will result. You will either do it so vividly that he will fall into a somnambulist state again, or he will be unable to recall it all.

There is a man of 30 with both legs paralyzed, who has been an invalid for years. In the middle of the night he rises slowly from his bed, takes his pillow, hugs it close, walks out of the room, through a courtyard, and climbs to the top of the house.

His friends have difficulty in reaching him, and must take great care in awakening him, for the moment he awakes his legs become paralyzed again.

When awakened he does not understand how he has reached the house-top and why he, a man sick with palsy, should have been carried there.

The man who ran to a housetop showed more agility than he would have had in his normal state, even if he had not been paralyzed.

There is a girl, made ill with despair at her mother's death. They lived in a garret. For two months before her mother's death the girl was under a great strain, tending her mother and earning her living at the sewing machine. After the old woman's death the girl tried to revive the body by lifting it to a sitting position and appealing to it. She now has a singular habit of acting these scenes over again while in a somnambulist state. No actress could rehearse these lugubrious scenes with such perfection.

The chief psychological characteristics of somnambulism are during the crisis of the huge unfolding of all phenomena connected with the cause of the delirium. The next is the absence of every sensation, every memory not connected with the delirium.

After the crisis three things are noticeable—a return to consciousness, normal memory, and entire forgetfulness of all connected with the somnambulism.

eradicating this too-willing vegetation, and now, just as the roadbeds of northern roads are sprinkled with oil to lay the dust, the line of the Tehuantepec road is liberally scalded at frequent intervals to keep cocoanut groves and sugar plantations from springing up over night between the ties and blocking the road.

CHOOSING WALLPAPER.

When about to have a room repaired take into consideration the size of the room, the height of the ceiling and the number and arrangement of the windows, as well as the use to which the room is put and the probable number and kinds of pictures you intend to hang upon the walls.

Small patterns add to the apparent size and are good in a small room. Striped effects give height and should be employed where the ceilings are unduly low. Plain papers are also suitable in small rooms and are best calculated to show off engravings to good advantage.

Where the ceiling is unusually high and a plain paper has been used a dado of a contrasting or harmonizing color, run about the top, just under the ceiling molding, improves matters.

Yellow paper lights up a dark room or one with a northern exposure beautifully. Red paper is charming in a library where the woodwork is dark and too sharp a contrast to the dingy covering of many beloved books must be avoided, but it has a tendency toward darkening the room if the windows are not very advantageously arranged.

Green paper combined with white paint is delightful in a sunny room of southern exposure, but green paper is usually a fortunate choice, for it can almost always be made to harmonize with the other furnishings.

Paper carried over the ceiling gives a better effect than if the ceiling is calimined and adds to the apparent loftiness of the apartment.

THE WHEELS OF TIME

roll around slow or fast, just according to whether or not you are in a hurry. February 1 always brings around our sale of table linens and towels. The offerings this year are as good or better than last, and will no doubt be taken up by the careful housewife the same as heretofore. The reductions, while not startling, are bona fide and exactly as advertised. These linens are good values at the regular prices, so must be exceptionally good ones at the reduced prices.
